

Keva Plank Club

Explore science and art through the ingenuity of your imagination.

KEVA planks are perfectly-cut, identical construction blocks that stack with great stability. Narrow towers can reach any height! The construction system provides a unique building experience for people of all ages—KEVA enthusiasts range from toddlers to professional architects because everyone can enjoy building at their own skill level.

During this club, through a series of individual and small group activities, students will be introduced to KEVA planks. They'll make two- and three-dimensional structures in response to a variety of challenges and use the planks as a tool for measurement.
