

Fifth Grade Summer Challenge

ELA

Fifth graders must read the book Crash by Jerry Spinelli and complete the attached graphic organizers. In order to qualify for the summer challenge rewards, students will need to have the graphic organizers completed.

Please keep in mind, it is also okay for parts of this book to be read TO your student. Students may enjoy hearing the book read aloud to them, as well as reading it aloud to parents/guardians or siblings. Audio books are another great option!

Math

Fifth grade teachers also ask that fifth graders practice their facts over the summer and keep a journal of this practice. In order to achieve success in the fifth grade, it is imperative that fifth graders have mastered their addition, subtraction, multiplication and division facts. Daily math work becomes difficult when students have not mastered their facts.
